92 Reds Killed in Mopup at Plei Me

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. combat troops reported 92 Communist guerrillas killed and 26 captured in fighting in central Viet Nam today and Monday.

Men of the 1st Air Cavalry Division, who arrived in Viet Nam only seven weeks ago, fought three engagements against an enemy force of between 500 and 600 men near the U.S. Special Forces camp at Plei Me, 210 miles north of Saigon.

The airborne cavalrymen reported they killed 88 of the enemy, captured 26 others and picked up 26 suspects. A U.S. spokesman said North Vietnamese regulars were among those killed and captured.

There was no word on American casualties.

The Plei Me camp underwent a week-long siege before the Communists were routed last week. The cavalrymen have been hunting down Viet Cong and North Vietnamese in the area since then.

The Viet Cong attacked an outpost near Qui Nhon, on the coast 260 miles north of Saigon, but a U.S. spokesman said paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division fought off the assault and killed four Viet Cong. The Americans suffered light casualties, the spokesman said.

In the northernmost sea rescue of the war, Capt. Norman P. Huggins of Mullins, S.C., was picked up after his plane was hit by conventional ground fire over a Communist surface-to-air missile site 35 miles north-east of Hanoi, a military spokesman reported.

Huggins headed out over the South China Sea and bailed out 57 miles east of Haiphong, North Viet Nam's major port. He spent an hour in a life raft before he was rescued by a plane piloted by Capt. David P. Westernbarger of Fairfield, Ohio.

During the rescue, two U.S. dive bombers shot up a North Vietnamese sampan that was heading for the downed man and firing machine guns at him. Huggins was reported in good condition.

Huggins was on a photo-reconnaissance mission over three SAM launching sites which U.S. planes attacked Sunday. Pilots after the strikes said they left one site in ruins, knocked the two others out of action and destroyed a key highway bridge in the area. Small-arms fire brought down a Navy jet during the raid, and the pilot was presumed captured after bailing out.

A U.S. C130 Hercules dropped 5,000 gift packages and 25,000 newspapers over a 90-mile stretch along the North Vietnamese coast south of the city of Vinh. The packages contained cloth, plastics, needles, thread, notebooks, towels and under-shirts.

It was the largest such drop of household goods so far and was made in connection with the observance Monday of South Viet Nam's national holiday, the second anniversary of the overthrow and assassination of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

U.S. and Vietnamese planes kept targets in all four military areas of South Viet Nam under attack almost around the clock.

A spokesman said U.S. and Vietnamese planes destroyed or damaged nearly 500 Viet Cong structures in other raids.

Cannon Used in Robbery Found

NEW YORK (AP) — In swift developments, the FBI arrested one man in the $400,000 Brink's burglary in Syracuse, N.Y., charged another still at large and recovered the cannon used to blast open the vault.

Jack Frank, 33, of Freeport, N.Y., taken into custody by federal agents, was to be arraigned today before a U. S. commissioner in Brooklyn. His nephew, Joel Singer, 22, of Chomedy, Que., is being sought in the burglary 10 days ago.

They were charged in Albany, N.Y., with conspiracy to violate the statute on interstate transportation of stolen property. The FBI also charged Singer with a violation of the federal firearms act in connection with the transportation of a 20mm antitank gun from Quebec to Syracuse.

The FBI said that it had recovered, with the aid of the Navy and Coast Guard, the antitank gun used in the burglary from waters near the Meadowbrook Parkway bridge to Jones Beach on Long Island.

The developments were announced Monday night in Washington, D.C., by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, who said laboratory experts positively identified the cannon as the one used in the burglary.

Police said the Brink's building in Syracuse was broken into the weekend of Oct. 23-24 and thieves fired at least 30 rounds from a 20mm cannon to blast open the vault.

The thieves made off with $418,028 from the vault, including $160,774 in cash and $255,254 in checks.

Frank, a bachelor and a mechanic on Long Island, was arrested Monday night in Garden City, then taken to the FBI office in Manhattan for fingerprinting and other processing. He was lodged in the Federal House of Detention.

Three Dead In Fire at Superior, Wis.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two children and their grandfather, who was babysitting with the youngsters, were killed when fire destroyed a home in Superior, Wis., Monday.

Other fires in Minnesota and nearby Wisconsin did an estimated $125 million damage Sunday and Monday.

Killed in the Superior blaze were Thomas Podgorek, 75, and Laurie Podgorek, 3, and her 6-year-old brother, Peter, children of Peter Podgorek, 23, and his wife, Caroline, 21. Firemen said the grandfather apparently was caring for the children while the parents were at work. Another child, a 4-year-old boy, fled safely from the burning home.

Burned out in other fires were a self service laundry and movie theater in Pine River, Minn., and two buildings housing several businesses in Rice Lake, Wis.

Johnson 1st Man to Vote in Home Precinct

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson was the first man to vote in his home polling place today, setting a citizenship example for millions who are casting ballots in off-year elections.

Johnson, deeply tanned and looking fit, showed up to vote a few minutes after the polls opened in this small town—population 611—where he grew up.

The President was accompanied by Mrs. Johnson.

The big Texas-wide issue in the election was whether to back Gov. John Connally's proposal to add two years to the present two-year term for the governor and other state officials.

The AFL-CIO campaigned strongly against the Connally proposal to amend the state constitution.

Johnson did not disclose his feelings on the matter.

Connally, a Johnson protege, will seek re-election next year.

A White House spokesman said Monday that Johnson, who is recuperating at his ranch near here from his gall bladder operation Oct. 8, was feeling very well.

The President was busy at his desk much of Monday, signing a raft of bills. He proclaimed Viet Nam and adjacent waters a combat zone, making servicemen there eligible for free air mail privileges and speedy parcel post service. These benefits were authorized by one of the 28 bills he signed.

He also signed the School Disaster Act, committing the federal government to help rebuild schools damaged by hurricane, flood or earthquake.

28 Dead in Mexican Bus, Train Crash

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A train sliced a bus in two at a crossing near the Teotihuacan pyramids Monday, killing 28 persons and injuring 16 others, officials reported. The train was en route to Mexico City from Veracruz.

Teotihuacan is about 25 miles northeast of Mexico City. It is the site of the famous pyramid of the Sun and the ruins of the ancient Toltec and Aztec.

Police said the bus driver apparently tried to race over the crossing ahead of the train. The driver, among 14 persons the bus, was among those killed.

Fena to Represent Rolvaag at Dinner

ST. PAUL (AP) — Gov. Karl Rolvaag has designated state Rep. Jack Fena to be his representative at Hibbing's Taconite Development Day banquet Wednesday. The governor will be in Washington as vice chairman of the White House conference on health. Fena is from Hibbing.

Arsenal Found In Klan Car

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Georgia police chief testified today he arrested five Ku Klux Klansmen after a cross burning and found an arsenal in their auto.

Chief Leo Blackwell, of Griffin, Ga., told the House Committee on Un-American Activities that the incident occurred April 24, 1964.

The committee was looking also into the activities of Nacirema, Inc., which investigator Philip Manuel described as a Klan offshoot for those who wanted "more violent action."

The word is a reverse spelling of American.

Witnesses refused Monday to answer any committee questions on how to handle explosives, or parties at a klavern headquarters near Atlanta. The parties led to the arrest of five Klansmen on charges of maintaining a disorderly house.

establishment, he and his men located the two cars that had carried the Klansmen. They were parked near the local klavern headquarters, he said.

Blackwell said he arrested two men in the klavern — he named them as Colbert McGriff and Oliver Custis Sanders—and three others later. He identified these three as Allen Bayne, Thomas Royce Carlyle and a John Mitchell.

Blackwell said all were strangers to him and he suggested they were from out of town.

In searching their cars, Blackwell said he uncovered a small arsenal and Klan robes and signs.

Witnesses at the cross burning, Blackwell said, told him that McGriff covered them from one of the cars with a weapon that looked like a Tommy gun as the cross was set up and ignited.

Blackwell said he also found records indicating one of the Klansmen was an organizer for the KKK.

Oust McNamara, Bomb Hanoi, Goldwater Asks

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Barry Goldwater called today for the resignation of Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, urged an all-out bombing of Hanoi industrial complexes and blamed Govs. William W. Scranton and Nelson Rockefeller, both Republicans, for his defeat in last year's presidential election.

In a taped television interview with newscaster Vince Leonard of KYW (Westinghouse) entitled "One Year Later," Goldwater also said the Johnson administration had turned down his request to visit Viet Nam as a reserve general in the Air Force.

Speaking from his home in Phoenix, the former Arizona senator said the resignation of McNamara "would be the best thing that could happen in our war effort. He has had too big a say in making foreign policy."

Goldwater, who was soundly beaten by President Johnson in the 1964 election, said McNamara's policies have reduced the morale in the Pentagon to an all-time low.

Goldwater said the war in Viet Nam could be ended in a relative few months if "we would say to Hanoi you are no longer a sacred place."

He urged heavy bombing of "not the city—we are not people killers," but industrial targets.

On politics he said the attacks by Rockefeller, of New York, and Scranton, of Pennsylvania, describing him as trigger happy and out to destroy Social Security hurt most in his bid for the presidency.

"They said it so often that people believed it," he asserted.

Legal Move to Oust Magnusson Started

ST. PAUL (AP) — Minnesota Gov. Karl Rolvaag is instituting legal proceedings for the removal of one of his appointees, Insurance Commissioner Cyrus E. Magnusson.

Rolvaag and Atty. Gen. Robert Mattson announced the move Monday Mattson said it is the first time in Minnesota history that a governor has attempted, by legal means, to remove a commissioner.

Last Friday Magnusson and 16 other men were indicted on fraud charges growing out of a federal grand jury's probe of American Allied Insurance Co., St. Paul.

Mattson planned to release today a report on his department's study of the American Allied case. Mattson said it covers "the entire American Allied matter and reflects upon the conduct of the commissioner in office." Rolvaag said he will act with "utmost dispatch."

Rolvaag asked Magnusson, last Saturday, to resign. The commissioner refused, contending he is innocent and that he will be vindicated in court. Rolvaag then, with Mattson's help, set the wheels in motion for legal removal of Magnusson from the commissioner position.

Meanwhile, the Minnesota Association of Independent Insurance Agents wrote Rolvaag that it is not the group's "position to pre-judge."

"We cannot at this time agree or disagree with the request for resignation as presented, because we cannot, in complete fairness, under our American principles take action without complete knowledge of the facts involved."

Mattson said charges involving Magnusson's conduct in office would be filed in the next day or so, but no criminal charges would be involved. The attorney general said a hearing then would be held before a legal officer to be named by Rolvaag. Following the hearing, Rolvaag will decide whether the testimony warrants removal.

The hearing procedures is expected to require at least one month, and it could take longer. Mattson said no state law specifically covers the situation. He said he and Rolvaag are proceeding under common law powers of the governor, since the governor is the official who appoints the insurance commissioner.

Magnusson, 61, former athletic coach and insurance agent at Two Harbors, originally was appointed insurance commissioner in 1959 by former Gov. Orville Freeman, now U. S. secretary of agriculture. Rolvaag named Magnusson to a second term early this year.

Rolvaag, Mattson and Magnusson are members of the Democratic-Farmer-Labor party.

Luci Silent On Report She Wants to Wed

WASHINGTON (AP) — "You know I can't say anything," was Luci Johnson's reaction Monday to reports she has asked her parents' permission to marry 22-year-old Pat Nugent of Waukegan, Ill.

And Nugent was similarly noncommittal when queried as to the state of his romance with the President's 18-year-old daughter.

"My private life is my own and so is Luci's," said the tall blond Marquette University graduate.

Luci was reached in person for the first time since the report Friday that she flew to the LBJ ranch in Texas to ask parental permission to marry Nugent.

She was leaving a two-hour session in Georgetown University's science building at dusk and said she was rushing to church.

"It's a holy day of obligation (All Saints Day) and I have to get to 5:30 p.m. Mass — if I miss it I'll be in trouble," Luci apologized. She entered a White House car and was driven away.

There has been no White House confirmation or denial of the report that Luci was trying to persuade the President to let her marry Nugent, who is about to enter military service.

Nugent, 23, from Waukegan, Ill., first dated Luci June 4 when he escorted the President's daughter, who was disguised in a wig, to the Marquette graduation prom.

3-Way Race For Mayor In New York

WASHINGTON (AP) — New Jersey, Virginia and a half-dozen Eastern and Midwestern cities — including New York, Philadelphia and Cleveland — hold the spotlight in scattered off-year election balloting today.

In most of them, Republicans are trying to supplant Democratic office-holders. The results will be watched closely for possible portents for the 1968 congressional and 1968 presidential elections.

Most interest has centered on New York City. An estimated 2.5 million of the city's 3.6 million eligible voters are expected to decide a hotly contested mayor's race between Democratic City Comptroller Abraham D. Beame and Rep. John V. Lindsay, a Republican running with Liberal party backing at the head of a fusion ticket.

Straw polls indicate a close vote. The race is complicated by the presence of a third candidate, author-publisher William F. Buckley Jr., the Conservative party nominee.

Democrats are favored to capture both governor's contests. In New Jersey, Democratic Gov. Richard J. Hughes, 56, is expected to defeat GOP State Sen. Wayne Dumont Jr., 51, while in Virginia Democratic Lt. Gov. Mills E. Godwin Jr., 50, is rated a probable victor over Republican A. Linwood Holton, 42, and Conservative party nominee William J. Story, 55.

Republicans are making strong bids for mayor of Cleveland, Ohio, and district attorney of Philadelphia. Other important mayoral elections are in Detroit; Louisville, Ky.; and Akron, Ohio.

New Jersey, Virginia and New York are electing legislatures, while Kentucky is filling some seats. In the only congressional contest, Republican Clarence J. Brown Jr., 38, is favored to capture the Ohio 7th District seat held for many years by his late father. Brown's Democratic opponent is James A. Berry, 35.

Although Lindsay, 43, has soft-pedaled his Republicanism, a victory or even a good showing in defeat could propel him into the front rank among future GOP presidential possibilities. Beame, 59, won the nomination by defeating retiring Mayor Robert F. Wagner's choice, Paul R. Screvane. The comptroller received President Johnson's endorsement last week and Democrats hold a 7-2 registration advantage.

In New Jersey, a turnout of 2.3 million of the more than 3.1 million registered voters is anticipated. Democrats claim a big lead for Hughes and hope to capture control of both houses of the recently reapportioned legislature for the first time in more than 50 years.

Dumont has attacked Hughes for refusing to dismiss Eugene D. Genovese, a Rutgers University professor who said he would welcome a Viet Cong victory in the Vietnamese war. Hughes said he disagrees with Genovese but that to fire him would be to violate academic freedom. Rutgers is a state university.

In Virginia, where Gov. Albertis Harrison is ineligible to run again, Godwin seeks to extend the 40-year control by the Democratic organization led by U.S. Sen. Harry F. Byrd. Story is likely to take votes of conservatives in both parties.

Both Godwin and Holton have made vigorous efforts to capture the Negro vote, and a record turnout of 550,000 voters is expected. Both Godwin and Holton are predicting victory. An overwhelming Democratic victory is expected in legislative races.

In Cleveland, Republican County Auditor Ralph J. Perk is trying to capitalize on a Democratic split to oust Mayor Ralph S. Locher.

In Philadelphia, Democratic Dist. Atty. James C. Crumlish Jr. faces a strong challenge from Arlen Specter, a Democrat turned Republican. Democrats have dominated the city's politics since 1940.

In Louisville, GOP Alderman Kenneth A. Schmehl is trying to be the second Republican mayor in a row after 28 straight years of Democratic control. Marlin Volz, law school dean at the University of Louisville, is his Democratic opponent. Republican Mayor William O. Cowger is ineligible for re-election.

JUST A FEW FEET TO DISASTER . . . Burning trash from the feeder door (on the right) of an incinerator just outside Randall's Super Valu in the Westgate Shopping Center provided the match which lit an $815,000 blaze Sunday. Swirling west winds blew the burning material out of the incinerator and

Open Incinerator Caused Big Fire

"The human factor" in a routine job of trash-burning Sunday afternoon led to the fire which virtually destroyed Randall's Super Valu, according to Fire Marshal Cleo Keiper.

Acting Fire Chief Ervin R. Laufenburger, Keiper and Deputy State Fire Marshal Gunner Thaug learned Monday afternoon from a Randall's employee that burning fragments from an incinerator started the blaze in a rear storeroom which eventually spread throughout the entire 22,200-square-foot building.

STORE manager James F. Hogue estimated damage to the Randall's building and its contents at $800,000. To this figure is added the $15,000 damages to the contents of the adjoining Gold Bond stamp redemption center.

Laufenburger, Keiper and

Auto Hits Mabel Store

MABEL, Minn. (Special) — A 17-year-old Elroy, Wis., youth, driving a 1959 model car stolen from a used car lot in La Crosse, slammed through a show window at Foltz Upholstery on Mabel's Main Street at 12:45 a.m. today.

Marshal Edwin Peterson had observed a car without license plates parked at the automatic laundry a block south of the upholstery store. He went to talk with the driver, who took off, and skidded around a corner into the store.

The car rammed into the building, which is on the east side of the street, and knocked out the entire west front. The car came to a stop partially inside the building. Upholstered furniture in the window was damaged.

The impact struck the northeast corner of the foundation, leaving it askew. Plate glass flew into the street.

Fillmore County Deputy Wayne Haugerud was called and took the youth back to the jail at Preston. He apparently wasn't injured. The owner of the car parking lot was notified. It carried a Tomah sticker.

The youth wasn't identified immediately.

Thaug signed the following report of their investigation into the fire's cause:

"The fire was caused when an attendant was feeding the incinerator" (an outdoor incinerator about five feet from a door to the storeroom where the fire started) "with the incinerator door blocked open."

"Pieces of burning material were seen to fly from the incinerator door. The attendant at the time quickly attempted to scrape these pieces under a shovel to smother them and then attempted to stamp them out."

"HE THEN searched for other burning pieces. Seeing none, he returned to the incinerator and closed the feed door. Next, he proceeded into the building where he discovered another employee attempting to push a burning cardboard carton from the building."

"Because of the strong westerly winds, the burning flying debris from the incinerator could have blown in through the open doors to the stock room, which was adjacent to the incinerator."

"The fire then spread to the readily combustible storage in that area."

"The fire marshal also mentioned that the attendant who was wrestling with the cardboard carton suffered burns to his unprotected hands. Gary Kotlarz, 518 Washington St., suffered minor burns to two or three fingers, according to Keiper."

The other youth was not identified.

Keiper said today that a woman employee had come up from the store's basement to the storage room and found the five-foot high cardboard carton in flames. She ran into the store proper and summoned a male employee to the room.

It was this employee—Kotlarz—who was wrestling with the carton, now completely enveloped in flames, when the unidentified youth who had been burning trash came into the storeroom.

Crackers and cookies wrapped in cellophane also gave off large quantities of heat as they ignited, according to Keiper.

A third factor Keiper mentioned was the ventilation system used by Randall's. This arrangement of fans moves faster when quantities of hot air rise into it, Keiper said. In the Sunday afternoon fire, the effect was to provide a strong draft which stimulated the flames.

As the packaged goods in the storeroom took fire, Keiper recounted, the two attendants attempted to knock them off the shelves so that they couldn't ignite other stacks. But the youths were unable to keep up with the racing flames.

A FINAL attempt to choke off the spreading blaze with hand extinguishers failed when the extinguishers turned out to be the wrong kind for the situation, according to Keiper.

A Minnesota City volunteer fireman, Manly Elton, who was shopping in the store came to help fight the fire. He ordered the youths to get fire extinguishers.

They came back with CO<sub>2</sub>-type extinguishers. But the CO<sub>2</sub> gas was quickly carried off by the strong draft and proved ineffective.

The youths and Elton had to abandon the store. Winona firemen, arriving minutes later, found nearly the whole space above the false ceiling of the store involved in flame and the store interior filled with murky smoke.

Firemen who had kept a continuous watch for flareups in the still-smoldering wreckage at the store until Monday evening were called again to the scene today at 6 and 8:48 a.m. to put out brief flareups.

Downtown Area Delegation Heard Businesses Object to School Site

Vigorous objection to the use of a four-block tract at the east end of Winona's downtown business district as a location for the new Winona Area Vocational-Technical School was expressed Monday night at a meeting called by the Board of Education to sound out public opinion on the school site issue.

About 185 persons nearly filled the Central Junior High School auditorium for the public forum on site selection and at one point during the evening when one businessman requested a show of sentiment from the audience on school location all but about 25 stood up to register protest to the suggested downtown site.

DISCUSSION at the meeting was centered principally on a four-block area bounded by 3rd and 5th streets, Franklin and Walnut, which had been proposed to the board as a possible vocational school site should a program of urban renewal be undertaken in the city and this property acquired for new construction.

A good many of those in the audience Monday night are owners of business properties in the four-block area or in the vicinity of this tract where future expansion of the vocational-technical school campus probably would take place if the school were to be erected in the downtown location.

Expressions by a majority of those who spoke at the session were concerned, chiefly, with a protest against displacement of existing businesses from a tax-producing commercial district, when other more suitable sites were available. There were no objections voiced toward construction of the vocational school which virtually all who spoke said was needed in the city.

LITTLE WAS said in favor of the downtown location for school purposes although one person, Don Raciti, 521 Sunset Dr., arose during a period when urban renewal was under fire to suggest that opponents of the program inform themselves more fully as to the manner in which it would be implemented, explaining that present plans called for it to be realized in phases which would not require an immediate and wholesale removal of business places from the affected district.

At the outset of the meeting school board president Lawrence Santelman explained that it was not the intent of the board Monday night to "debate urban renewal, good or bad."

He said the meeting had been called solely to obtain information which would assist the board in its ultimate selection of a school site, that several sites were under consideration by the board and that discussion at the meeting should be confined to site issues.

"We're not here to debate with you or argue with you," Santelman continued, "on the merits or urban renewal. If this becomes a name-calling meeting or becomes unruly, we'll adjourn it."

JUST BEFORE board members left their meeting room in Senior High School to go to the auditorium for the public meeting they were visited by two downtown businessmen, J. O. Reinhard and Al Berg. Reinhard handed Santelman a sheaf of petitions which he said contained the signatures of 635 persons who were opposed to the selection of a downtown site for school purposes. Reinhard said that the signers were "all volunteers. Not one was pressured into signing and we feel that these petitions represent a good cross-section of the town. We didn't just go down our street, we went to both the east and west part of town."

One other organized group was heard in opposition to the downtown site.

THE JUNIOR Chamber of Commerce submitted a letter to the board which stated, in part: "The Winona Jaycees are vitally interested in the educational program of Winona and have a special interest in the proposed vocational school . . . It is the feeling of this group that locating the school in the downtown business district would have unfavorable results on the vocational school and the city of Winona."

The Junior Chamber of Commerce (goes on record) in total opposition to locating the school in the downtown business area.

A spokesman for the Jaycees at the meeting amplified the organization's stand on the downtown site with an explanation that opposition was expressed because of the limited area which would be available for school purposes, probably necessitating high-rise construction which would be excessively expensive; that it would be unwise to place a tax-exempt institution in a downtown business area and that the addition of a large school population in this area would create serious traffic and parking problems.

It was the wish of the Jaycees, he concluded, "that a suburban location be finalized as quickly as possible."

ONE OF THE first questions asked of the board at the meeting was whether construction of the vocational school was being coordinated with any specific plan for future development of the downtown area.

Santelman said that it was his understanding that a master plan for renewal was being developed but as yet it had not been submitted formally to the City Council.

Don Ehmman, 980 W. 5th St., asked if the board was in a position to "spend $500,000 or $700,000 for those four blocks downtown."

Santelman replied, "No. It's not the intention of the board to spend anything like that for a school site."

The board president said that he understood that if an urban renewal program were inaugurated the cost of bare land in the four-block tract would come to around $120,000, on the basis of a per-square-foot price of 35 cents.

EHMANN questioned whether the downtown tract could be made available to the board, if it desired it, within the timetable set for school construction. Santelman said that the board wished to begin construction as soon as possible but that he had no information as to when or if the downtown site would be available.

Another person asked whether the board had any information as to what damages would be awarded property owners who might be displaced from an urban renewal area. Santelman said he hadn't but felt that in the case of Winona State College land acquisition awards of appraisers apparently had been fairly satisfactory in view of the few appeals taken from their findings.

"The state probably is more generous," the questioner commented. "Remember that now we're dealing with the U.S. government."

FRED BAUER, an East 3rd Street businessman observed, "It's my understanding the state Board of Education recommended a 20-acre site. If we're going to build a $6 million complex with the Senior High School and vocational school I think we should follow the state's advice on an adequate site."

"It seems to me it would become awfully expensive for the school board to have to buy more downtown property later to allow for expansion. You must also consider that if you're going to have 300 people in that school you're going to have 200 cars to be parked and you're creating a terrific traffic problem. I, personally, can't see how the board can even consider this downtown site."

Ehmman quoted a statement made by the board during the period prior to the bond issue on high school and vocational school construction in which school officials were quoted as saying that they felt that the public would object to removal of four blocks of residential property from the tax rolls for school purposes.

THAT STATEMENT was made, Santelman said, before the urban renewal program had developed to the present stage. The board was asked whether it had considered other sites for the vocational school. Santelman said it had considered several, among them a 17-acre tract west of Siebrecht's greenhouse and between old and new Highway 61.

He was asked if consideration had been given to property on the south side of Lake Winona east of Huff Street. Santelman said this area had not entered board discussions.

Asked about comparative costs of acquisition of the downtown site and the one near Siebrecht's, Santelman said it was his understanding that either could be purchased at an expenditure of about $120,000 — the former if urban renewal were to be undertaken and the latter including costs of sewer extension and other developments.

Bauer commented, "I think it would be asinine to tear down four blocks of business property and put up a non-tax building, especially when we know there's other and better available land for the school."

HE DREW A round of applause when he added, "I think you nine men on the board are in a position to stop this tearing down of business and taking property off the tax rolls."

From the audience came the statement, "I think the board actually feels like us about this but they're sitting on the fence waiting for some word from the urban renewal authority."

"The board would have avoided this entirely," Santelman replied, "if it hadn't been interested in hearing both sides of the question. What we want to do is gather all the pertinent information we can to help in making the right decision. We know, too, that there are two sides to every question and we can't satisfy everyone."

ROY ANDERSEN, a store owner in the downtown district, expressed concern over removal of business places from the proposed tract, saying, "You've got more than 20 stores there and I can't see where they could possibly go."

Referring to Santelman's statement that the 10-acre downtown tract would cost about $120,000 and the 17-acre one near Siebrecht's the same amount, the board was asked, "Wouldn't it be better to get almost twice the amount of land for the same amount of money?"

One person said that he'd surveyed the area under consideration and found that in the four blocks under immediate consideration and the four additional blocks that would be needed in the future for school expansion, of 36 houses outside appearances indicated only four were in definite need of renewal and that two or three others were questionable. He concluded that this did not indicate a need for renewal in this area.

When the emphasis of the discussion began to center mostly on renewal issues, Bauer interjected, "I think that about half of you here who want to argue urban renewal should go on down to the City Council and talk to them. These school board members aren't deciding urban renewal. Those of us who are against the downtown location for a school can stay here and talk about a school site."

ANOTHER spokesman said that he thought it would be good if the board expressed itself on its feelings about the school site.

Santelman said that he, personally, felt that "the Siebrecht site is excellent. It's large, it has good access from both new Highway 61 and the old highway, it's land characteristics are excellent for construction."

"Now, on the other side," he continued, "I feel that downtown Winona needs some rejuvenation and the only reason I'm considering a downtown location would be for rejuvenation. You ask a friend from out of town to go for a ride and chances are you don't take him through the downtown district. When you come across the bridge, just look over the downtown area. It's not a pleasing sight."

BERG replied, "I think most of us think there's a need for renewal of some of our buildings. But I think that urban renewal should stand or fall on its own merits and the school site should be decided on its own merits."

"I don't think the new school should become a football in this urban renewal fight," another stated. "If you keep putting in parking lots and new schools downtown you'll come to the point where you don't need a downtown."

Martin A. Beatty, a property owner, asked if a referendum were to be held on renewal next February, would there be time for the board to build downtown and keep within its present construction schedule. Santelman said it was hoped that the vocational school could be ready in 1967 and didn't know how renewal proceedings would fit into this schedule.

Bauer told board members that if he were to have to relocate his business downtown it would require perhaps triple the present investment in business property.

"WE'RE NOT in a position to do this and I'm convinced there are others like us in this area. As far as we're concerned — and I know there are others like us — we could move out in West Burns Valley or East Burns Valley or some other outlying place just as well."

"It seems to me," said another, "that you're going to put up a school to train mechanics but will be taking out the places where these mechanics could work."

Another 3rd Street businessman said he knew of no justification for "you to drive out 30 business places when they have no place to go."

F. E. Leicht, 627 Market St., observed, "It appears to me that the school board at this time has an opportunity to help the City Council make up its mind on urban renewal. It's my hope that your decision will make for a healthy situation for all concerned."

JOSEPH L. Orłowski, 802 W. King St., said he was convinced that the downtown site did not afford adequate space for school development and urged that an undeveloped area be taken. He expressed concern over elimination of tax revenues that would result from displacement of existing businesses and said he questioned estimates on the ultimate cost of acquisition of downtown property.

When the questions and statements began to slacken off, Santelman thanked those who attended the meeting for their interest in the issue, promised that the board would consider information provided at the meeting in their deliberations and then adjourned the session.

Council OKs College Student Demonstration

Permission for a three-college parade and demonstration supporting administration policies in Viet Nam was voted Monday night by the City Council.

The demonstration is planned for Saturday at 1 p.m., and will be led by Stephen Nikola, St. Mary's College Senior. The procession will start at St. Mary's and will include students from College of Saint Teresa and Winona State College as it moves downtown.

STUDENTS hope to hold a rally near the flagpole on post office property, Nikola said. Postal officials have said they were not sure such permission could be granted. As an alternative, the group would like to use 5th Street, between Main and Center streets, in front of the post office, Nikola told aldermen.

The rally is expected to last about a half-hour, he said, and is exclusively a student project.

Aldermen stirred uneasily as they considered the implications of the request, then began asking questions.

ALD. HAROLD Briesath, acting mayor in the absence of Mayor R. K. Ellings, suggested Central Park, south of the post office, as a site. Ald. James Stoltman, acting council president, proposed Center Street between Broadway and 5th Street, just east of the post office. Ald. Jerry Borzyskowski objected that postal patrons would be badly inconvenienced by such street blockage at an hour he described as unusually busy in that area.

Commenting that he favored the groups objectives, Ald. Barry Nelson — who later voted against the permit — asked whether students would use other means of showing their sentiments.

Signatures will be collected, Nikola replied, and sent to McGeorge Bundy, a presidential adviser who has been actively defending the administration in college appearances across the nation.

REFLECTING that such permission would obligate the council to allow like privileges to a possible anti-administration demonstration, Ald. Nelson asked Nikola what he thought should be done. Nikola said he thought the council should "go along with it," as long as it was legally conducted.

The group prefers the post office grounds because it wishes to be near the flagpole, said Nikola. If not allowed to use the grounds, the students would then like to use the street nearest the flag (5th Street), he explained.

The parade and subsequent speeches will center on two points, support for administration policy in Viet Nam and opposition to those who "illegally" object to it, said Nikola. He added that his group does recognize the rights of "legal" opposition to such policies. He did not explain what he meant by legal or illegal demonstrations.

ALD. HENRY Parks wanted to know what sort of banners would be carried. Nikola replied that they would deal with the two themes he had outlined. The sponsoring organization is known as Student Identification with the American System, he said.

In answer to Ald. Stoltman's query, Nikola said the group would agree to Central Park as its alternate site, if the council gave permission.

A brief lull in the discussion was broken by Ald. David Johnston's motion to extend permission for the parade and rally. Voting in favor were Ald. Johnston, Donald Klagge, Harold Thiewes and Stoltman. Opposing votes were cast by Ald. Nelson and Borzyskowski. Ald. Neil Sawyer was absent.

Ald. Parks, who had appeared to abstain, later asked to be recorded against the proposal. He said he is opposed to any demonstrations such as those being held in southern states like Alabama.

It Happened Last Night Evening With Meg and Tony

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Well, now, what Hollywood personalities do you suppose Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon want to spend an evening with?

Don't mention I told you, but you can bet it might be "people like Rock Hudson and Shirley MacLaine."

You see, Sharran Douglas is hosting a big party for about 90 at L'Espresso in Beverly Hills . . . but in addition Sharran's good friend, Hollywood publicist Rupert Allen, is giving a small party for about 18 along with retired Gen. Frank A. McCarthy, at Allen's home . . . and just over a dozen can be asked to dinner. That'll be the "in" Group.

Miss Douglas, now a guest in Beverly Hills of the Mortimer Halls while making arrangements to receive the royal couple, is having such problems as slashing the guest list when only 5,000 want to come. Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon while in Los Angeles will reside in the Beverly Hills Hotel, on the fourth, or VIP, floor, I just want to say that I have a title, too (The Earl of Wilson) and in many years of staying at the Beverly Hills, I've never been allowed on the fourth floor.

RICHARD Burton & Liz Taylor are laughing off another Italian magazine piece quoting Liz that she "married a dead man on a temporary leave" (due to his hemophilia) and that she constantly fears for his death. Sure, he's a bleeder, but not that bad, they say. Burton, incidentally, will have to get more literary agents to handle all the demands for his writings since he reviewed the Dylan Thomas book . . . Poet Norman Rosten's new book has poems to and about Marilyn Monroe and Humphrey Bogart . . . Harold Wilson told friends off the record that Hubert Humphrey "doesn't have an ounce of isolation" and he wishes he could say the same for everybody else. Wilson said LBJ's passion for activity reminded him of the rugby star who exclaimed, when the ball was lost in the stands, "Never mind the ball, let's get on with the game."

The Steve Lawrence fans are demanding fiercely that Steve's TV show be immediately renewed for years and years — and probably after they learn Claudine Auger, James Bond's playmate in "Thunderball," has been signed for Nov. 8, they'll become even more insistent.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: An agent complained at Rosoff's that many rock 'n' roll singers are stars at 19, but washed up at 25: "Their voices are still good, but their legs are shot."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: David Burns, dining at Reuben's (which names its sandwiches after stars), told the waiter: "I'm dieting, so bring me a sandwich named for a thin celebrity."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "A man likes a woman who makes him laugh, loves the woman who hurts him, and marries the woman who flatters him." — Anon.

EARL'S PEARLS: A lot of people are already working a four-day week, but it takes them from Monday through Saturday to do it. — Van Rapaport. Taffy Tuttle looked over a display of thermometers, and said, "I'll take this Fahrenheit one — I've heard a lot about the brand." That's earl, brother.

Fish of the Year

This big northern that tipped the scales at 17 pounds and 5 ounces is, as far as we know, the biggest northern caught by hook and line fisherman in this stretch of river this year. Allen Kutchara, 180 N. Baker St., got it on a daredevil, a red and white one, while crappie fishing in Bathhouse Slough Sunday afternoon.

An experienced fisherman, Kutchara who was fishing alone in his boat, said the fish put up a fair fight. He was using a spinning outfit wit ha six-pound test line. He worked the fish up the side of the boat and easily dipped it into the boat. Looking at the trophy with amazement is his nephew, Mickey Glaunert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Glaunert, 919 W. Howard St.

Walleye fishermen were out in numbers Sunday below all of the dams, fishing up pretty close to the gates. We counted ten boats below the Alma dam and a good number of fishermen on the float.

From Highway 61 there appeared to be a dozen boats below the Whitman dam and quite a number of fishermen on the float there and along the Wisconsin shore. The number below the Winona dam was down because of the wind, which also had driven the fishermen off the lower end of Lake Pepin. There were several boats of fishermen visible off the Nelson-Wabasha dike road.

The duck hunters had pretty well come in by the time we looked over the launching area. Those checked reported two or three birds. The weather was too hot, they said, the birds were not flying. We saw few ducks in the air or for that matter on the water. The wind probably kept them in sheltered areas.

Ducks Yet to Come
Jimmy Robinson, our duck man in Canada, reporting from Portage La Prairie, Man., gives the good news that more ducks are to come. The "bluebird weather" of the last ten days has held the movement back. A cold blast of winter from the north is needed. Here is his report dated Saturday:

"Mild weather throughout western Canada, and some ducks and geese are moving south daily with the calendar. There is very little to report. Most of the blue-winged teal, pintails, cans and redheads have moved south. Ernie Paynter, game director of Saskatchewan, reports, 'Still bluebird weather here — and it is 70 above today — and we have had no rain for over a month.'"

"We have large concentrations of ducks and geese in the western part of the province and the Quill Lake, Wynyard and Last Mountain Lake areas. Mallards are on the big waters. About 60 percent of the ducks have moved south."

"Conditions in Alberta are pretty much the same. Here in Manitoba we have had mild weather and temperatures in the 60s for the last ten days, and hunting has been spotty. There are very few ducks on the Delta, Lake Frances, Shoal Lake and Netley marshes. Eugene Boesenmaier, Game Biologist for the Manitoba game branch, says, 'Shooting has been very spotty since the opening day, and birds are scarce. We have reports of some mallard concentrations of 2,000 birds where 15,000 or 20,000 was common a few years ago.'"

"There are some scaup in southern Manitoba, but we have reports of large concentrations in the north country. It appears the canvasbacks had a very good hatch this year, but from reports I have had and my own personal observation here in Manitoba, mallards are still down. We hope we'll have a more optimistic report next week, but doubt it. Last year at this time I reported a 15-percent increase over 1963, but if conditions do not improve, I predict that the 1965 fall flight will be down. A cold front will move in Sunday."

With two weeks to go Minnesota and Wisconsin hunters along the river don't want to put away their duck boat as yet. The seasons of the two states run through Nov. 17.

Portugal is shaking off the economic stagnation of centuries to enter belatedly into the industrial area.

$26,118 Price On 7 Parcels For School

The Board of Education Monday night moved a step closer to acquisition of eight more parcels of property on its new Senior High School construction site with agreement on a proposal for damages submitted by attorneys for the property owners in the area near the west end of Lake Winona.

The proposal had been submitted to Robert Langford, the board's legal counsel in the site acquisition, by attorneys for owners of seven parcels for which a settlement of $26,118 was proposed.

LANGFORD also said that another parcel probably could be purchased for $975 and the board approved a motion which would authorize Langford to enter negotiations for purchase of all eight parcels.

The lump sum of $26,118 breaks down to $700 to allow for fees for appraiser retained by the property owners and awards to individual owners of:

David and Mary Paskiewicz, $3,843; Marvin and Vernis Schroeder, $4,430; Glen and Marie Brems, $2,722; Charles and Virginia Milton, $3,199; Lottie Vierns, $5,376; Harold and Darlene Armstrong, $2,580, and Theodore and Violet Erickson, $3,286.

The other property involved in Monday's discussion is owned by Bud G. Squires and represents a tract of about .31 of an acre. Price is $975.

PREVIOUSLY the board had negotiated agreements for the purchase of seven other parcels on the school site.

Langford was asked how the prices proposed for the properties listed Monday night compared with those for which agreements had been made previously and he said that the most recent proposed acquisitions run about 15 percent higher.

If the parcels discussed Monday are purchased, it would leave only five for which condemnation proceedings would be required in District Court this fall.

A hearing on appointment of commissioners for the condemnation is scheduled for Nov. 29.

Nov. 10 Warning On Packages Headed Overseas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unless they're traveling by air, Christmas packages headed overseas should be mailed no later than Nov. 10.

If air mail is used, the deadline is extended to Dec. 10.

These are the dates recommended by the Post Office Department for assured delivery of parcels in time for Christmas.

The same deadlines hold for surface and air mail greeting cards headed overseas.

Within the United States, postal officials recommend mailing no later than Dec. 5 for parcels intended for distant states, Dec. 14 for those being mailed locally or to nearby states.

Christmas cards being mailed great distances should be mailed by Dec. 10, while those being sent locally should go by Dec. 15.

Two Ask to Buy Part of Old Road

Any old highways in the county for sale?

This was the question proposed to the Winona County Board of Commissioners Monday afternoon by two Winona men, Clarence Haase and Leslie Root.

The two appeared before the board and said they were interested in purchasing a small plot of land—about 150 by 200-feet for two mobile homes. They wanted to purchase a section of an old highway which had been replaced by a new roadway.

Leo R. Borkowski, board chairman, referred the men to the county highway office to see if any property was available for this purpose.

Foreign Policy Report Overdue

MISSING FOR MONTHS has been a detailed address to the nation — and thus to the world — by President Johnson on the aims and actions of American foreign policy.

He has made such explanations in the past, particularly on this country's role in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic, when the United States was initiating or stepping up action in those places.

This was especially true last spring when he considered it necessary to send 22,000 troops into the Dominican Republic.

But tension finally dwindled there, American action in Viet Nam although greatly increased had lost its novelty, and more and more of the President's time was taken up with getting his programs through Congress.

AND FOR MONTHS now he has not attempted a lengthy, detailed, and carefully reasoned explanation to the world. Thus he left a vacuum and the critics of American foreign policy stepped into it.

The criticism has not come only from abroad but from American school campuses and not only from Republicans in Congress but, much more vehemently, from some of Johnson's own Democrats there.

In particular one Democrat, Sen. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas, chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee, attacked American policy in the Dominican Republic, and another, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, has been a thorn to Johnson on Viet Nam.

The House Republican leadership has raised questions on and off but never with the same head-on assaults of Fulbright and Morse.

AND PROTESTS on college campuses, even though only a minority of students was involved, have reached the point of parades and demonstrations. All this is ammunition for American critics abroad.

A few nights ago the need for a single, careful, authoritative American voice — meaning the President's — to discuss American foreign policy was illustrated by the CBS television show, "Town Meeting of the World."

Through a satellite relay stations in London, Belgrade, Paris and Mexico City were able to appear on television to question former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Arthur J. Goldberg, U. S. ambassador to the United Nations, and Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall.

It was an unsatisfactory performance all around and, on the part of the students, a hostile one. Amid sneers and apparent contempt the students quizzed the three distinguished Americans about this country's policies in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

SOME OF THEM were arrogant, some talked too much, and many of their questions, because of their poor English or transmission difficulties, were not clear.

The three Americans — although Marshall said little and seemed angered by the attitude of the questioners — were sometimes too long, rambling or platitudinous.

And they certainly weren't always on the beam even though the questions themselves were part of a now familiar pattern of criticism of American policy.

This was hardly the way in which American foreign policy can be explained or understood and absorbed at home or abroad. The program made it clear that the need for such explanation can be filled by no one as well as Johnson.

Yet, because of the need for some peace and quiet to recover from his recent operation, Johnson is not likely to take the airways soon.

In the years ahead Johnson probably will have to take time out for a number of such world-wide explanations for the criticism now, although mounting, is not basically new. It just takes new forms.

JOHNSON HIMSELF recognized the repetitiousness of it when he said earlier this year:

"I am the most denounced man in the world. All the Communist nations have got a regular program on me that runs 24 hours a day. Some of the non-Communist nations just kind of practice on me."

Wherefore, if meat make my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend. — I. Corinthians 8:13.

Big Talk But Few Top Issues

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Today's off-year elections: for the most part, dull, and particularly in the governorship races in New Jersey and Virginia. The New York City mayoralty race is a little perkier.

In all three: big talk but few real issues. The outcome isn't likely to show whether the Republicans can bounce back from their 1964 catastrophe with Barry Goldwater.

Still, there's an echo of Goldwater conservatism in New York and Virginia where Conservative party candidates are running without any hope of winning. Their only aim seems to be a show of force.

IN NEW YORK, where the Democrats have run the city two decades but got all split up in choosing Abraham D. Beame as their candidate, the Liberal-Republican candidate, Rep. John V. Lindsay, didn't even make a purely Republican try.

With a Liberal and Democrat as running mates, the lively, Yale-bred Lindsay has been making a "non-partisan" campaign against Beame, an accountant who rose through Democratic ranks to be city comptroller.

On issues there's little to choose between them. The third candidate in this contest, also Yale-bred, is the very conservative William F. Buckley Jr., author and publisher, whose role has been more heckler than candidate.

FROM THE start he didn't have illusions about winning. If he did win, he said, he'd ask for a recount. He has concentrated upon picking on Lindsay who refused to back Goldwater last year.

If the Lindsay-Beame contest is close, the votes one or the other loses to Buckley may make the difference, thus giving the Conservative group the balance of power and hope for more of the same in future races.

If the active, hand-shaking Lindsay wins it will probably be more of a triumph of personality than support for Republicanism.

PRESIDENT Johnson backed Beame last week but he delayed his blessing so long he gave the impression of wondering whether he ought to.

In New Jersey the candidates are really at a loss for ideas.

There, where Gov. Richard J. Hughes, Democrat, is seeking re-election over Republican State Sen. Wayne Dumont Jr., the principal issue has been a college professor and Democrats expect a landslide.

Dumont made a big thing of attacking Rutgers University's Prof. Eugene D. Genovese, who said last spring he welcomes a Viet Cong victory in Viet Nam. Dumont wants him fired. But Hughes, while disagreeing with Genovese, says firing him would violate academic freedom. Rutgers is a state university.

According to Parisian author Jean Charles, French school kids perpetrate just as many boners as do our native youngsters. A few examples rounded up by Monsieur Charles: "The horse has four legs, one at each corner." . . . A skeleton is a man who has all his bones on the outside and nothing on the inside." . . . "The difference between a calf and a cow is that you're a calf for only one year, but you're a cow forever." . . . "During the French Revolution a man could be arrested in the morning, tried at noon, and come home the same evening beheaded."

The one American humorous writer Fred Allen admired above all others was James Thurber. "I had started writing my autobiography," recalled Allen, "when I first read a collection of Thurber's. Know what I did then? I tore up my own compositions and inserted my quill back into the fowl."

KKK Publicity Director Rents P.O. Box in North

By DREW PEARSON

SWARTHMORE, Pa. — Most residents don't know it, but this quiet Quaker community has suddenly become the focal point for the northern mail campaign of the Ku Klux Klan.

Wally Butterworth, public relation man for the United Ku Klux Klans, has rented box 33 at the Swarthmore post office and picks up his mail here two or three times a week — mail that comes in as a result of a campaign to enlist right-wing support in this liberal college town, the home of Swarthmore College.

Wally Butterworth is the former Philadelphia-New York radio-TV announcer who once lived with James Venable, KKK attorney, in the shadow of Stone Mountain, Ga. Now 63, Butterworth has an excellent speaking voice, and does quite a business in recording anti-Jewish and anti-Negro tapes which are circulated among hate groups. He frequently calls upon whites to protect their way of life by violence.

FOR SOME years Butterworth has been publicity director of the United Klans and recently drifted up to the Philadelphia area where he rented a post office box at Swarthmore. Swarthmore postal officials have not been happy over the rental, but under the law have nothing to say about who rents boxes as long as obscene and subversive matter is not circulated through the mails.

One possible explanation for Butterworth's picking Swarthmore for his post office is the location of a vigorous right-wing radio station — WXUR — in Media, only four miles away.

Last March 19, the Federal Communication Commission transferred WXUR to the Faith Theological Seminary, of which Rev. Carl McIntire, the right-wing fundamentalist preacher, is president.

The licensing of WXUR to the McIntire group was made despite protests by the Catholic Interracial Council of New York, the American Baptist Convention, the Lutheran Church in America, the Anti-Defamation League, the United Church of Christ, the Greater Philadelphia Council of Churches, the AFL-CIO, the New Jersey Council of Churches, the Presbytery of Philadelphia, the National Urban League and the NAACP.

SELDOM HAS there been such an array of religious and social groups opposing the award of any radio license. Despite this, the FCC gave WXUR to the McIntire group without a public hearing and despite the fact that the three-year license of the original owners had not expired.

Chief reason for this unusual transfer was the mercenary one that the station was "currently losing money."

"We have determined that a hearing looking toward a possible denial of the application is not warranted," wrote the majority of the FCC commissioners. They said they relied on the pledge of the McIntire group that it would "not slant the news or in any way distort factual material."

Commissioner Kenneth Cox issued a blistering dissent. He demanded that the commissioner at least hold a public hearing before giving a radio license to the McIntire organization.

"While I recognize that Rev. McIntire is not the applicant here, I think a sufficient showing has been made to indicate that he will be the dominant figure in the proposed license."

"THE FACT that Rev. McIntire has a right to express his views does not signify that he is entitled to control a broadcast facility," wrote Commissioner Cox. "The test the commission must apply is not whether the applicant's freedom of expression should be served, but whether the public interest will be served by entrusting a scarce frequency to his control."

Commissioner Cox was referring to the extreme right-wing diatribes which Rev. McIntire has delivered over a national hook-up of radio stations.

Since March, when the WXUR license was granted, Commissioner Cox's fears seem to have been justified. WXUR has featured such right-wing commentators as Dan Smoot, Rev. Billy Hargis, Dean Manion, R. K. Scott, Kent Courtney, Howard Kersner and the American Educational League of Englewood, Calif.

Recently the book blasting President Johnson, "None Dare call it Treason" by John Stormer, has been promoted for distribution over WXUR.

Federal Assistance
Not Federal Control
To the Editor:

Once again Congressman Quie has tried to defeat a good program by calling on an old bogeyman from the past, the fear of federal control. There may come a day when the people will recognize this tactic for what it is — an attempt to appeal to emotions instead of logic and reason.

The Teachers Corps proposes to recruit well-qualified teachers from all over the nation and make them available to local school districts that have a high concentration of low income families and in general an inability to attract the quality and quantity of teachers they need. No teachers will be sent to any district except upon request of the local district. The local school district will maintain control of hiring and firing and curriculum as in the past, with the federal government providing the finances by paying the money for the salaries to the district which in turn pays the teachers. The act contains the following provision concerning local control:

"Members of the Teachers Corps shall be under the direct supervision of appropriate officials of local educational agencies to which they are assigned, except as otherwise provided in clause (c) of Section 513. Such agencies shall retain authority to assign such members within the system and (2) make transfers within the system and (3) determine the subject matter to be taught."

This is federal assistance, not federal control. It is possible to have federal assistance without unwanted control, if the people will it.

School Aid Bill Biggest Aid to Education
To the Editor:

The biggest aid to education ever considered by Congress was the controversial school aid bill, that gave President Johnson his biggest legislative victory of the session.

Previous bills had founded on the rocks of religious controversy between supporters and opponents of federal aid to both public and parochial elementary and secondary schools. In her letter to this column, Mrs. G. M. Grabow would bank her life on Al Quie's House vote, that he would ever deny help to deserving people.

When the key roll call vote in the House was recorded, Al Quie voted against the school aid bill, aimed primarily at helping school districts which serve children from impoverished families with family incomes of $2,000 or less a year.

This unfavorable action has all indications that the poor deserving people are the victims of the conservative coalition in which the Minnesota Republican congressmen play a major role. The truth is no one likes to talk about the poor but something ought to be done about it. Any one who takes the time to walk through his own city will see them. But you have to get out of the car and walk not just talk.

Right to Protest More Important Than War
To the Editor:

I note that two readers of the Daily News have taken exception to some of the remarks I made on Viet Nam protests and the law in a previous letter in this column, and I would like to reply briefly to both.

Dr. Barabak's letter was concerned largely with issues other than the one I raised. As readers will recall, I have taken no stand on whether the United States should fight in Viet Nam; I have concerned myself solely with the right of protest, which I consider more important than this war or any other war. Insofar as Dr. Barabak's argument concerns mine, it seems to me that he is saying that, although one has the right to protest, it is not wise to exercise that right in the present circumstances.

In terms of logic, this is a valid point. Whether I agree that the present protest is unwise is another matter, which I am not going into. My argument is that people have the right to protest whether they are unwise or not and that their right is more important than their wisdom.

Mr. Gilliam points out that "by logical extension" my argument means that "man must abdicate his conscience to law." This is not "by extension"; this is exactly what I said and what I still maintain. If everyone is free to put his conscience above the law, there is no point in having laws. My argument, Mr. Gilliam continues, means that we must admire Adolph Eichmann as a law-abiding citizen. But at this point I must object. There is a fallacy here which makes Mr. Gilliam's argument as absurd as he says mine is. Adolph Eichmann lived under a legal system which contained no provision for the correction of unjust laws — indeed, the system itself was unjust.

I am writing in the context of the United States legal system which DOES contain provisions for the correction of unjust laws. These provisions include the Supreme Court and the right of citizens to vote out of office legislators who pass unjust laws. That's why we have courts and elections — to insure that people will have no excuse for putting their consciences above the law.

I believe that the right of citizens to be protected against other citizens who have hyper-active and diseased consciences is just as important as the right to protest.

To Your Good Health

Answers To Your Questions

Dear Dr. Molner: I read in your column that most women don't need to douche and that it may be harmful if done to excess.

I have used a douche of baking soda and water as a birth control method for years. Now I am skeptical. Do you think I am harming myself?—MRS. P.A.H.

No, I don't see any harm in this — or any benefit, either. The douche is at best an unreliable method of contraception, and often fails.

What I wanted to convey was that routine douches for the sake of cleanliness are unnecessary, and for health purposes are advisable only when medication is required.

The harm in douching rests not in the douche itself but in the irritating solutions which some women use. A weak salt or soda solution is not irritating.

Guardsman Cited For Flood Mission

Staff Sgt. Henry D. Ramer, of the National Guard Company B, was awarded the Commendation Ribbon with Pendant for meritorious achievement in the April flood at the National Guard Armory here Monday evening.

The ceremony was conducted by Lt. Col. Lucian Grupa, executive officer for headquarters of the 1st Brigade, 47th Infantry Division.

Sgt. Ramer was cited for a heroic action on April 18. The award, which was ordered by Gov. Karl Rolvaag, states:

"Sgt. Ramer, with disregard for his own safety, volunteered to pilot a small boat through dangerous waters during dusk and darkness, in order to establish an access water route to Dike S-A, in a westerly direction from Winona.

"Although the weather was cold, windy and rainy, and notwithstanding the constant danger imposed by submerged objects and floating debris, Sgt. Ramer ably completed his mission. As a result of his actions, an access route was established for use by relief water craft in effecting re-supply of materials urgently required by dike workers.

"Sgt. Ramer's display of high sense of purpose and his dedication to the difficult task for which he had so unhesitatingly volunteered, reflects most favorably on himself, on his unit, on the Minnesota Army National Guard, the state of Minnesota, and on the National Guard as a whole.

Unit administration and supply records were checked Monday afternoon by Maj. Louis E. Jandro, brigade training officer, and C.W.O. Merlyn J. Blume, administrative specialist from brigade headquarters. Both are of Owatonna, Minn.

County Board OKs Contract On Planning

An agreement for a reconnaissance survey of Winona County was approved Monday afternoon by the Winona County Board of Commissioners.

The commissioners signed an agreement with Nason, Law Wehrman & Knight, Minneapolis, the planning firm, to pay $500 at the completion of the survey.

THE reconnaissance survey is needed if the county plans to go ahead with a planning and zoning program with federal funds.

Included in the reconnaissance survey, according to the planners, would be an inventory of existing data, a survey of planning needs, an inventory and survey report, and the formulation of a planning program. The firm also agreed to meet twice with the county planning and zoning committee to discuss the reconnaissance survey. The $500 will come from county funds.

Commissioner Len Merchle-witz, Winona, said he didn't think all townships had contributed their $25 to the county fund for the planning and wanted to know if they would still receive the services.

Chairman Leo R. Borkowski, Goodview, said he didn't think the townships should receive the services until the $25 was paid. Homer needs the planning, Borkowski added. No action was taken.

According to a member of the county planning and zoning committee, Homer and Whitewater townships have not paid their $25 into the fund. Most of the townships paid their fee in 1963 and the remainder in 1964.

IN OTHER business concerning the planning and zoning, George Burns, Winona, appeared before the board to ask for reimbursement for trips he has made on zoning matters. He said he had made at least one trip to the Winona County board and two trips to the county agent's office at Lewiston. Burns said he was reimbursed for meetings at which a secretary recorded the minutes, but no minutes were kept of these meetings. The commissioners agreed to discuss the matter.

Harness Helps, Doesn't Hinder, Lecturer Says

"Some of you are bothered by the idea of being in a harness," Thomas A. McCain, a Christian Science practitioner, teacher and lecturer from Chicago, told the audience at the Christian Science Church Monday evening.

"We generally think of a harness as restrictive: The less harnessed we are, the more freedom we enjoy.

"The purpose of the harness is to guide, control and to protect," he said. "The real harness in which man rides is the harness of truth." He also described it as the presence of God, operating as divine law.

"When you let God's law govern your everyday life, you ride easy in the harness. This brings a spiritual freedom.

"This is the freedom Robert Frost had in mind when he said, 'to me, freedom means riding easy in the harness.'"

McCain said, "No one, no matter who he is, can be happy or truly successful unless he lives in accord with his highest sense of the principle. Living in the principle could only mean living in God, yielding to His purpose for me, to the highest understanding I had of it.

"We don't need to lose ourselves in religious fervor," he said. "We need to find our true selves in the living God and to leave each day in active response to God."

DEAR ABBY:

Gift for Baby Is Appropriate

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: One of the girls in our office has a new baby, born out of wedlock. She decided to keep the baby. She worked here for seven months and everyone liked her a lot. Here's the problem: Another girl in the office is taking up a collection to buy a gift for the baby. I am of the opinion that if I give something toward the gift, it will look like I am condoning immorality. If you were in my place, would you give?

HIGH MORALS

DEAR HIGH: The baby is here, and it is as blameless as any born in wedlock. You aren't being asked to contribute toward a "medal of honor" for the mother, just a gift for the new baby. If I were in your place, I would give.

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: Nobody has to tell me what my problem is. I am at least 50 pounds overweight. I am 27 years old and everybody tells me what a pretty face I have. When I walk by the store windows, I don't even want to look at the pretty clothes because I know I can't wear them. I have a few girl friends, but no dates. Lately I've started to worry about myself so much I can't fall asleep at night. I have no one to blame but myself for the shape I'm in, but I never seem to do anything about it. Do you know of a quick diet I can follow, Abby? I would like to lose this weight in three months.

HATE MYSELF

DEAR HATE: You didn't put on those 50 pounds in three months, and you can't expect to lose them in three months. See a doctor and follow his instructions. When you start counting calories, you won't have to count sheep.

DEAR ABBY: After reading many letters pro and con about whether cats DO suck the breath from babies, I am impelled to comment. To suck anything, the sucker must surround with his lips the receptacle from which he sucks in order to create a partial vacuum. Consider the shape of a cat's mouth. Now tell me how a cat can make a vacuum so that no air is admitted through any side. It's impossible. But even if it WERE possible, the baby could still obtain air through its nose!

Now tell me, how can a cat "hold" a baby's nose while covering its mouth? As long as the baby is getting air, no vacuum can be produced.

Another fact. Cats are naturally curious, and their hearing is especially acute. When a cat puts his nose against something, he is investigating. In the case of a baby, the cat is probably curious about the "escaping air." A cat will seek warmth, and could conceivably suffocate an infant by lying on its face. But as for the story about cats sucking babies' breath, it is scientifically impossible!

Yarbrough, Stanion 4 Hailed in WSC Concert

By WILLIAM SCHMID
With a simple unaffected style, Glenn Yarbrough sang to a capacity audience Monday evening at Winona State College. Yarbrough, formerly with the Limelights, is currently being featured on a nation-wide tour as a soloist. He was adequately backed by the Stanion Street Quartet composed of piano, guitar, bass and drums.

THE FIRST section opened with an uninspiring pair of numbers by the quartet. Yarbrough then sang five songs of a quasi-folk nature such as "Old Blue," "Loch Lomond" and a contemporary version of "Frankie and Johnny." The remainder of the first half of the program was filled by Bill Rose, a poetry-reciting comedian.

The salty, but witty young Mr. Rose began his act in an unusual manner by narrating a poem about Captain Medford from New Bedford. Most of the humor in this whole tale was provided by well-timed sound effects. By the time intermission arrived, one wondered whether he was seeing the Glenn Yarbrough Show or the Bill Rose Show.

Yarbrough gave the public what they came to hear during the second half of the program. Although most effective in a soft intimate type of song, Yarbrough stirred the audience to spontaneous participation in the lively "Whatcha Goin' to Do." The high point of the evening was his recorded hit, "The Honeywind Blows."

NATURALLY enough, Yarbrough felt obliged to push his latest recordings. Unfortunately most of these songs were not of the same caliber as "The Honeywind Blows." Yarbrough even made apologies for many of them. Several songs obviously aimed at the teenage rock consumer tended to cheapen the quality of the whole program.

Glenn Yarbrough no longer labels himself a folk singer, but there are many who feel that he still does his best work in the commercial folk area.

Why does the head chef at Antoine's cook with gas?

He cooks with gas because he needs the kind of control only gas can give you. You get the exact cooking temperature you want because you have hundreds of heats to choose from on a gas range, not just five or six. And you get that exact temperature right then and there. Turn a burner on a gas range up, down, on or off and it goes up, down, on or off. Instantly. This kind of perfect control is why the great chefs appreciate gas ranges. And why you'll feel the same way. Live modern for less... with gas.

Half a Ton of Lutefisk Ordered for Modena Event

MODENA, Wis. (Special) — Within the next few days a half a ton of lutefisk will be delivered to the small community of Modena by some unsuspecting truck driver. Although it sounds like a clever Halloween prank, it is completely "on the level."

MODENA Lutheran Church Women will start working on this huge order two days ahead of time in preparation of their famous lutefisk and meatball dinner and supper, to be served Nov. 11.

MISS KAREN OLSON'S engagement to Patrick Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Myers, Independence, Wis., is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Olson, Taylor, Wis. The wedding will be Nov. 27 at St. Peter and Paul Catholic Church, Independence. The bride-elect is employed at Batavian National Bank, La Crosse, and her fiancé works for Boastrom Corp., Cudahy, Wis.

Lutefisk Dinner At Gilmanton Set

GILMANTON, Wis. (Special) — Few rural churches are still serving the lutefisk dinners that have always been popular in the farm communities. The Lyster Lutheran Church at Urne will, however, serve this supper again this year.

Thursday, the congregation will welcome the public at their church basement. Serving will begin at noon and continue until 2 p.m. Supper will start at 5 p.m. and serving will continue until all are served.

The 1,100 pounds of lutefisk has been ordered through the local store and will be sent by truck from Eau Claire, 30 miles away.

This all started back in 1934 when the Modena Lutheran congregation decided to turn its family harvest dinners into a public dinner featuring Norwegian cooking. Except for a few years during World War II, when food rationing prevented it, the lutefisk and lefse, along with Norwegian meatballs and all the trimmings has been served traditionally in early November. At first the dinner provided an evening out for the local farm people in the area. However, each year it has grown and last year a new record was set, when the 50 women in the congregation served over 1,100 people.

All the food for the day is donated by the members of the congregation, with the exception of the fish, meat and rutabagas. The special treat for dessert is the complete assortment of Norwegian baking that the people of the area are famous for. This baking is also on sale during the day and people come from miles away to buy.

STILL ACTIVE after 31 years of service to the dinner are: Mrs. Thomas Ness, Mondovi, and Mrs. John Moll, Mrs. Albert Hagan, and Mrs. Molly Nelson, Modena. Mrs. Arnold Ness, daughter-in-law of Mrs. Ness is in charge of the dinner this year.

"When I was first married," she commented, "I hated lutefisk. I suppose the reason is that I am almost 100 percent German. Now, however, I can eat it right along with the rest of the women and I like it."

The public is cordially invited to have dinner or supper with the congregation again this year. Popular prices are charged, with special rates for children.

Three Offices Burglarized; Scooters Stolen

Three break-ins and two motor scooter thefts were reported to police Monday night and early this morning. Assistant Chief Marvin A. Meier said.

A burglar lifted $192 from a cash drawer at Credit Bureau, Inc., 68 1/2 E. 4th St., sometime during the night, Meier revealed. The burglary was reported today at 7:45 a.m. by a clerk who discovered the rifled cash box on the floor in the company's office.

DR. L. L. Korda called police this morning to report that his office at 103 1/2 W. Broadway was broken into overnight. He reported $15 missing from a cash drawer in his office.

Dr. D. V. Boardman reported $2 missing from a similar drawer in his office on the floor below Dr. Korda's.

Both break-ins are under investigation by police detectives, Assistant Chief Meier reported. Gregory Bambenek, 267 E. The following river stages are predicted for Winona: Wednesday 5.8, Thursday and Friday 5.7.

Council Ends Rail Crossing Closing Plan

By unanimous vote Monday night, the City Council approved payment of $18,538 to the Milwaukee Railroad for Mankato Avenue crossing signal relocation.

The action thus snuffed any lingering sparks of argument over whether to close a half-dozen grade crossings in the city. The railroad had offered to extend credit for 15 percent of the bill for each crossing closed by the city council.

OPPOSITION developed inside and outside the council and built up to a 5-4 vote Oct. 4 against the closing proposals.

Although the amount is not in the present budget, the council added it to next year's levy. So payment will be made from temporary sources and reimbursed in the 1966-67 fiscal year.

Aldermen also ordered three contractors' estimates paid.

The third and final estimate of American Plumbing & Heating Co., $1,717.69, on a Junction Street storm sewer was paid. The contract price of this extension, tied in with improvements on Broadway and West 5th Street, was $14,972.

THE FIRST estimate on an East 3rd and Liberty Street storm sewer project — for $20,363.36 — was ordered paid to Winona Plumbing Co. Extending east along 3rd Street, the work involves separation of storm and sanitary sewer facilities which previously were combined and had produced severe sanitation problems. Contract price is $31,111.

The first and final estimate of Winona Plumbing Co. for a water main replacement in the Chicago & North Western yards was ordered paid. The amount, $2,018.50, is to be reimbursed to the city from federal Office of Emergency Planning funds.

The restoration was connected to flood damage in the area.

In other action, the council approved plans and specifications for a bookkeeping machine for the city recorder's office. Bids will be opened at the next regular meeting, Nov. 15.

An ordinance was passed allowing construction of a 2,000-gallon fuel oil tank at the Winona Public Library.

A RESOLUTION was adopted employing T. G. Evensen Associates, Minneapolis, as marketing consultants for a planned revenue bond issue against parking meter funds. Legal services will be provided by the Minneapolis law firm of Dorsey, Owen, Marquart, Windhorst and West.

Installation of downtown telephone booths at two locations was approved. They will be on 3rd Street, at the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. office entrance, and on the west side of Main Street, 18 feet south of 3rd Street. The city will be paid commissions from both revenue and will pay the cost of lighting, about $1 per month each.

Two Businesses Get Special Parking Spaces

Three proposals for reserved or limited parking spaces were adopted Monday night by the City Council.

Ald. Henry Parks, chairman of the street committee, introduced the proposals.

Two spaces, with 15-minute limits, were approved for the street in front of Kleinschmidt Grocery, 209 W. Sarnia St. Parking on both sides of the street is frequently jammed by persons attending athletic events at Maxwell Field, Parks said. This prevents customers from parking near the store and is harmful to business, he said.

A similar problem exists at Ethyl's Beauty Shop, 220 W. 5th St., said Ald. Parks. High school students' cars use up all available space on school days, preventing customers from parking nearby. His motion for 2-hour limits on two spaces in front of the shop was adopted.

Aldermen also voted to prohibit parking in three spaces on the north side of Broadway, extending west from Franklin Street. This is to keep open access to Grace Presbyterian Church for elderly or disabled persons who otherwise must frequently walk longer distances to get to the church, Parks explained.

OSSEO HIGH DEBATORS. OSSEO, Wis. — Osseo High School is among 60 area schools invited to participate in the annual debate clinic at River Falls State College Saturday.

New System of Housing Code Inspection Asked

Housing code inspections should not be part of the engineering department's responsibilities, Ald. Jerry Borzyskowski told the City Council Monday night.

Ald. Borzyskowski said city plumbing and electrical inspectors, now assigned the task on a part-time basis, should be assigned to another department, he said, or another individual should be hired by the city for the work.

HOUSING code duties are interfering with the regular work of such inspectors, said Borzyskowski. He added that when he wanted to see the plumbing inspector recently, the inspector was unavailable because he was inspecting houses. This had been costly to him.

said Ald. Borzyskowski, who is in the plumbing business.

Ald. Donald Klagge replied that housing inspections, primarily the responsibility of the health department, have been parceled out between the two departments on a trial basis. The system has only been tried for two weeks, he said, and thus has not had a fair trial. The purpose is to try to do the job with present personnel and save money, said Ald. Klagge. Ald. Borzyskowski then proposed that the job be handed to another department, such as streets (bringing an instantaneous objection from Ald. Henry Parks) or some other jurisdiction. He felt the system already ready for a fair trial, said Ald. Borzyskowski, it had cost him money and the situation would probably get worse, not better.

ALD. DAVID Johnston agreed that putting on an extra employee might be the answer. Ald. Barry Nelson said he would inquire about possibilities of federal government funds to cover costs of such personnel.

Ald. Klagge said the two inspectors are spending two half-days a week on housing inspections under the trial plan. He recommended that the council wait for another two weeks to test the effectiveness. Acting Mayor Harold Briesath pointed out that plumbing and electrical inspectors are in their City Hall offices for scheduled times each day so that contractors can consult with them.

Ald. Borzyskowski agreed to suggestions that the trial period be continued, at least until the next regular meeting, two weeks hence. Ald. Nelson said he would try to have a report on possible federal contributions then.

1,648 Eat Lutefisk at Rural Church

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — Who said the Norwegian style lutefisk dinners are out of style?

At First Lutheran Church at North Beaver Creek Sunday, a total of 1,648 persons were served, a new record, according to Richard Mattson, ticket sales chairman.

Diners who came from a wide area consumed half a ton of lutefisk, 510 pounds of meatballs; 15 gallons of gravy; 138 pounds of butter; 700 pounds of potatoes; 450 pounds of rutabagas; 60 pounds of cranberries; 38 quarts of pickles; 226 pies and 30 pounds of coffee.

A similar dinner and supper will be served at First Lutheran Church, BLAIR, Thursday, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and at 5 p.m. The Rev. K. M. Urborg is pastor of both congregations.

Prank Causes Truck Damage

A little teen-age prank cost Biesanz Cut Stone Co. $1,000 to $1,200 in damage to three trucks, Sheriff George F. Fort reported today.

The sheriff said that Deputy Helmer Weinmann was patrolling Sunday afternoon when he decided to check the stone quarry, scene of a number of gasoline thefts recently. The deputy found no one near the fuel pumps.

But he heard sounds as if someone were driving a truck on the hill behind the quarry, which is on the old Goodview Road.

Checking, Weinmann found three 15-year-old boys driving a dump truck up the steep hill. When questioned, they casually mentioned that they already had moved two other trucks to the top of the hill.

A Biesanz official told Sheriff Fort Monday that damage to the clutches on the three trucks would amount to between $1,000 and $1,200.

The youths were taken into custody and have been turned over to juvenile court.

WHO'S THE WINNER? ... From the glum look on Ernie Terrell's face, it's hard to tell he just retained his World Boxing Association heavyweight crown in a 15-round fight against Canadian heavyweight champion George Chuvalo of Toronto (right), who feels his battered nose. Terrell won a unanimous decision in Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens Monday night. (AP Photofax)

Terrell Still 'Champ'

TORONTO (AP) — Ernie Terrell still is a champion today, but the crown which sits atop his 6-foot-6 frame still doesn't make him the big man in the world of heavyweight boxing. He knows this.

Terrell won a unanimous 15-round decision over George Chuvalo Monday night to remain champion. But he still is only champion of the World Boxing Association, not of the world.

The man recognized by everyone but the WBA as king of the heavyweights — Cassius Clay — puts his share of the title on the line against Floyd Patterson Nov. 22 in Las Vegas.

Terrell was not a picture of jubilation in his dressing room after making the first defense of the title he won by outpointing Eddie Machen in Chicago last March 5.

"Everyone has always made fun of me, mostly because I'm a singer as well as a fighter," said the champion, who also is head of a musical combo. "I don't know why people get this laughing image of me."

His victory over Chuvalo probably won't change Terrell's public image immediately, but it could do so indirectly because it puts him in line for a shot at the winner of the Clay-Patterson fight — a fight which would give boxing a single heavyweight champion again.

The WBA threw the heavyweight division into its present Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde state by stripping Clay of his crown for signing a return bout contract with Sonny Liston before their first fight in 1964.

Vince Says He Will Settle for 6-1 Mark

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Green Bay's decisive 31-10 defeat administered by Chicago Sunday may have disappointed Packers fans but Coach Vince Lombardi says he'll take a record for the second half of the season exactly like the first half.

"First of all," he said, "I'll settle for that (6-1) the rest of the way."

The Packers still have a share of first place in the power-packed Western Division and with that in mind are preparing for Detroit's invasion Sunday.

Lombardi said he didn't know Monday if quarterback Bart Starr would be ready for the Lions game. "I'll have to wait and see how he does in practice," he said.

Starr was racked up by a shattering block thrown by Roosevelt Taylor at Wrigley Field Sunday. Starr was dazed but came back the next time the Packers had the ball despite a shoulder injury.

"There's no doubt that the injury affected Bart's passing," said Lombardi. "He was very sharp when he started but could not retain this edge, thereafter."

Starr shrugged off the injury and said he felt fine. He said he did not go to a hospital for precautionary X-rays upon the team's return to Green Bay. And he saw no reason why he shouldn't be ready for the Lions.

After checking the game films Lombardi said the Packers committed too many errors, but added, "I'm not taking anything away from the Bears. They were a good football team."

Lombardi said he was disappointed with the tackling of the Packers. "Our tackling was very poor," he said. "In fact we played on defense like we were stuck in the mud."

Outside of Starr, Green Bay came through the hard-fought Chicago clash without serious injuries, according to Lombardi.

"Nobody likes to lose but maybe this was a good thing for us," Lombardi said. "We'll come back."

Terrell, 26, hardly used his right hand at all in defeating the plodding, two-fisted Canadian.

The Chicagoan, who had a seven-inch advantage in reach, threw stinging left-hand punches to Chuvalo's face almost from the opening bell until the final gong.

Although there were no knockdowns, Terrell, who weighed 206, drew blood from Chuvalo's nose and cut him about both eyes.

The Canadian, who weighed 209, required 10 stitches to close two five-inch cuts over his left eye.

Referee Sammy Luftspring scored it 72-65, judge Fred Nobert called it 73-65, and judge Jackie Burke made it 69-65 for Terrell.

The fight was scored under the five-point must system, in which the winner of a round receives five points and the loser four or less.

The action didn't end with the fight.

Terrell accused Chuvalo of repeated fouling. He pointed to an inch-long gash in his left eyebrow and said it was caused by butting. He also said Chuvalo kept stepping on his feet.

The referee warned Chuvalo for butting and Terrell for thumping in the eighth round.

Chuvalo was bitter about the outcome and said he was "willing to go to the Supreme Court (of Canada)" to protest the decision.

"I can expect a bad decision anywhere else, but not in my home town," said the 28-year-old Chuvalo, who spent 45 minutes behind the locked door of his dressing room shouting at his manager, Irving Ungerman, and his trainer, Bernie Glickman.

He blamed Ungerman for agreeing to fight in Toronto, saying the bout should have been held elsewhere.

A crowd of 12,500 at Maple Leaf Gardens paid $124,456.50 to see Terrell win his 14th straight fight. His record is 38-4. Chuvalo's record is 33-10-4.

Gophers Go To Youth, 3 Sophs In

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota Coach Murray Warmath instituted a youth movement for the football Gophers Monday, inserting three sophomores in the starting line-up for Saturday's home game with Northwestern.

Part of it was enforced by a disabling injury to halfback Dave Colburn — out for the final three games of the season with a broken collarbone.

But two other moves appeared to be nothing more than letting the youngsters get some much-needed experience for the future.

Sophomores Dick Peterson of Fridley, Minn., and John Williams of Toledo, Ohio, were installed as the Gopher running backs. And another yearling, Barry Yagodich of Monessen, Pa., moved to the first-team defensive middle guard position.

Williams replaced durable but unspectacular Joe Holmberg at fullback.

And Yagodich dislodged senior Brian Callahan on defense. They bring to six the number of sophomore starters for Minnesota.

Warmath began work Monday on stopping Northwestern's running attack, which he described as a good one despite last week's 49-7 loss to No. 1-ranked Michigan State.

"When Northwestern's backs are healthy, they have been able to move the ball against anybody," Warmath said.

Word from Evanston, Ill., Monday was that Wildcat running backs Ron Rector and Woody Campbell — who both missed the Michigan State game — will be ready to face the Gophers.

For This Fellow, It's Old Stuff

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Holes in one are becoming old at Jim Lucarell of nearby Conneaut Lake.

The 51-year-old Lucarell sank his sixth career hole in one Monday, on the par 3, 173-yard seventh hole of Park golf course in Conneaut Lake.

SUDDEN DEATH WIN RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Ramon Sota of Spain shot a par 4 on the first extra hole Monday to win a sudden-death playoff with Gene Littler of San Diego for the Brazilian Open golf title after the two finished the 72-hole round tied at 268.

LET'S TALK SPORTS

THE FOOTBALL RATING SYSTEM took another blow in the solar plexus Saturday when Winona State pounded out a unanimous 48-12 decision over Elmhurst College.

The Blue Jays were ranked among the top 30 colleges in the nation by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

We know some of you are thinking the Jays were 10th. It was most kind of several metropolitan papers and wire services to up-rate the club, but according to stats released last week, Elmhurst was in the third ten.

At any rate, the question springs to mind: Was Winona that good or Elmhurst that bad? There will be arguments both ways. Admittedly, Elmhurst did not give a very inspired showing for an unbeaten and top-ranked team. On the other hand, it is doubtful that Winona could have lost.

While we personally have watched Warrior teams for some six years, others who have done it longer, called the performance the best they have witnessed.

Perhaps Archie Skemp, the end, summed it up best when he said: "I doubt that anyone would have beaten us today. We were that good."

It's true, the Warriors were great. But if Elmhurst deserved to be among the top 30, Winona State deserved to be first.

What was written Saturday was just another chapter in the tale that could be called "The Fallacy of Football Ratings."

MEMO TO THE WINONA High School football team: Don't take Austin lightly.

Perhaps that is a superfluous warning in view of the Packers' narrow 6-0 loss to John Drews' mighty Rochester John Marshall Friday. We can background it a bit with some statistical gems.

Going into the game with Rochester, Austin was ranked the No. 1 defensive team in the Big Nine with a 7.0 average.

Now, you can easily see, the Packers did nothing to destroy that mark against Rochester, even though they did lose.

Also, though Austin was able to generate little offensively against John Marshall, it had held a 21.5 scoring average. That was good for the No. 2 spot, following Rochester with 35.5.

You can also be certain that Art Hass will have his team back on its toes for Friday's meeting at Austin. No. 1, no Austin team is apt to lose at home very often, and No. 2, the Packers naturally will want to cement second place.

WHILE WE'RE SPEAKING of the gridiron sport, we certainly can't overlook Winona Cotter, which Sunday meets a team coached by an ex-pro and big enough to be a pro team.

Bob Welch's Ramblers will close their season against Minneapolis De La Salle at Jefferson Field Sunday at 2 p.m.

De La Salle is coached by ex-Viking and former University of Tulane all-American Don Joyce.

Joyce, in fact, began his professional career with the Chicago Cardinals in 1951. Three years later he was in Baltimore, where he played for seven years, two as a member of the '58 and '59 championship clubs.

He then joined the Vikings before going to De La Salle in 1963 as assistant football coach. He became head coach last year.

You can be sure he is pleased with this year's club, which has nine men over 200 pounds and seven more over 190.

Welch is probably wondering whether the pros use some weight-training program he doesn't know of.

BITS AND PIECES: Jim Grady, Madison, Wis., is chairman of the Wisconsin American Cancer Society Bowl-Down activity for this year. The Allen's Market team of Wabasha's Major loop clipped a 1,000 game recently. Harry Lager hit 227, Ev Allen 204, Don Biever 202, Elmer Schuth 189 and Jerry Eskelson 178. Although Albert Lea had an open date last Friday, Jim Gustafson worked his team extensively throughout the week in preparation for Rochester this Friday.

Baseball Above Law According To Brave Theory?

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves are trying to argue that baseball is above the law, Wisconsin authorities said Monday in pursuing their anti-trust suit against the team's announced move to Atlanta.

In a 29-page brief, the state contended the U.S. District Court should return its suit to the Milwaukee County Circuit Court where it was filed. It said a 1922 U.S. Supreme Court ruling that baseball at that time was not engaged in interstate commerce does not prevent a state itself from acting to eliminate economic violations within its boundaries.

Wisconsin said the Braves' attempt to keep the state suit in federal court, where it was subsequently shifted, "was devoted to the proposition that baseball is truly above the law."

The state brief said the Braves took the position "that a sovereign state, public spirited citizens, or for that matter, anyone who says they are not above the law, is evil, a conspirator, can't possibly be serious, and in general, is out of their mind."

HONOR TO OPPONENT MICHIGAN

No Badger Awards

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The Wisconsin football team held a stiff workout Monday which Coach Milt Bruhn said was intended "to make an impression on the boys."

Bruhn is trying to whip the Badgers into shape after they suffered a humiliating 50-14 defeat at the hands of Michigan last Saturday. Wisconsin faces rugged Purdue Saturday in Madison.

Usually on Mondays the coaching staff selects outstanding players from the preceding game for awards as the top defensive and offensive players. This week there were no awards.

"I have a hunch the opponents should have the awards this week," said Bruhn.

Missing from the brisk hour-long drill held in full gear were fullback Tom Jankowski and offensive tackle Phil Sobocinski.

Jankowski suffered a concussion against the Wolverines and is still bothered by headaches. Sobocinski sprained an ankle. With Jankowski sidelined and Gale Bucciarelli hobbled with a charley horse, Ron Lowandowsky is the Badgers' top available fullback.

In an effort to shore up the defense, Bruhn moved Don Bliss to right tackle ahead of Nate Jenkins and made Steve Goodman the top reserve at an end position. Veterans Mike London and Rodger Alberts were demoted.

The blockers may be without the services of two key players when they invade Madison. End Bob Hadrick and fullback Randy Minnear, both offensive starters, are expected to watch the game from the sidelines.

Hadrick, who has set a season record of 47 catches, has a knee injury described as a hyperextension and was placed in a cast until Friday. Minnear suffered a foot injury and will be on crutches for a few days.

Dunking for Babson Woman Swim Coach?

WELLESLEY, Mass. (AP) — Members of the varsity swimming team at Babson Institute are determined they're going to throw the coach into the pool if they win their opening meet this year.

Even though the coach is a lady.

She's Betty Catinella, an attractive 44-year-old mother of six children who has the 23-man team grumbling that she works them too hard.

"There are too many sprints, too many yards to swim in too short a time," says team captain Steve Smith, "but we need it badly."

The all-male business administration school lost its swimming coach just before practice started, so Smith, who dates the coach's oldest daughter, suggested Mrs. Catinella.

Babson's athletic director, Tom Smith, whose 10-year-old daughter was taught to swim by Mrs. Catinella, agreed. Team captain Smith, an 18-year-old junior in accounting, sounded out the other team members and found no objections.

Billy (Boom Boom) Brown who triggers the fuse that ignites the scoring bombs.

Brown, sidelined in summer training by a shoulder separation, had trouble getting started this fall.

He carried the ball only 11 times for 18 yards in Minnesota's first two games. The Vikings lost them both — to Baltimore and Detroit.

Since then, however, Brown has been on a rushing rampage against the National Football League, and the Vikings have won four of their last five. The only game they lost in that spurt, the Vikings scored 37 points.

In the past five games, Brown has rushed for 372 yards on 70 carries — a 5.3 average.

His spectacular performance against the Cleveland Browns Sunday, when he carried 26 times for 138 yards, gave Brown 390 yards in 81 carries this season for a 4.8 average.

It also shoved him among the rushing leaders in the NFL. Cleveland's great Jimmy Brown, who was held to 39 yards in 18 carries by the Vikings, still leads with 777 yards on 158 carries, a 4.9 average.

Minnesota's Tommy Mason is second with 470 yards on 105 carries for a 4.5 average.

Viking quarterback Fran Tarkenton also is certain to gain a notch or two in the NFL passing standings. He has 98 completions in 175 attempts for a 56 per cent mark, good for 1,552 yards and 11 touchdowns.

Tarkenton was sixth last week in the ratings of NFL passers, but likely will pass Green Bay's Bart Starr in this week's standings.

Paul Flatley leads the Vikings in pass receiving with 26 catches for 445 yards, but Brown is narrowing the gap on Flatley with 23 receptions for 333 yards. Mason has caught 16 for 271 and Red Phillips 13 for 162.

Fred Cox still is Minnesota's top scorer with 12 field goals and 27 extra points for 63 points, while Mason has eight touchdowns for 54 and Brown six TDs for 36.

Bobby Walden's punting average has dropped to 44.4 on 22 kicks.

IN WINONA COUNTY

State Asks Higher Rural Assessments

Assessments of rural residential property in Winona County has not been brought up to one-third of market value, Roland F. Halford, commissioner of taxation, told the Winona County Board of Commissioners in a letter Monday afternoon.

The tax commissioner suggested that David Sauer, county supervisor of assessments, bring all rural residential property in the county up to one-third of market value for assessment purposes.

Sauer told the commissioners this would apply mainly to rural residential property in Rollingsstone, Homer, Winona, Richland, and Wilson townships. Sauer said most counties in the state have been requested to do this. Most of the residential property in rural areas is assessed at about 30 percent of the market value at the current time, said Sauer.

According to Sauer, assessment of this property would be one-third of market value if sold—or on one-third of what the assessor considers a fair market value.

The letter was placed on file by the commissioners.

Trempealeau Co. Historians Hear Review of Work

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special)—Miss Ruth Lyon, student at Eau Claire State University, was the speaker Sunday afternoon when more than 20 members of the Trempealeau County Historical Society met in the Isaac Clark room of the Bank of Galesville.

She described and explained the work she had done during the summer months in cataloging the historical artifacts, manuscripts and photographs stored in Galesville. She illustrated her talk with humorous cartoons drawn by Gerald Hall of Galesville.

Valuable records and historical articles, once displayed in a museum in Whitehall, have been moved from a temporary storage place in a building on the Trempealeau County fairgrounds at Galesville and are stored in a vault in the former bank building and in the Armstrong garage.

The articles were catalogued by Miss Lyon, under the heading LAMP, for Library, Artifacts, Manuscripts and Photographs. Cases for newspapers were contributed by her father, Herbert Lyon, Town of Caledonia.

Miss Lyon was introduced by Clark Nixon, La Crosse, president of the society. Miss Edith Bartlett recently came into possession of four bound volumes of the Galesville Transcript from 1860 to 1864 which she obtained from a woman in Elgin, Ill. Miss Bartlett said she will donate the volumes to the society.

At the business session members voted to set up committees for membership, program, social and a LAMP, the latter to have charge of the manuscripts and artifacts.

A secretary is to be elected to succeed Mrs. Eileen Layton, who has moved from town. Meetings are to be held the last Tuesday in alternate months beginning in January 1966.

A potluck supper was served. Judge Gary B. Schlossstein, Albia; Melvin Schmullerberg and Mrs. Erwin Homstad, Black River Falls; Mrs. Lily S. Reich, Viroqua; Edward Sendelbach, Cochrane; M. S.
